

German submarine prisoners of war were housed in a camp at Papago Park. Several executed an escape, but all were recaptured.

